

The Aftermath

Evaluating your Home after "The Storm"

Photograph and document damage. Keep a running list of all damaged items.

File a Claim as soon as possible. When you contact your provider, let them know the extent of the damages and that you have an inventory of your possessions.

Secure Safe Lodging.
If your home is uninhabitable, you'll need to find your family a safe place to stay while your home is being repaired.

Conduct emergency repairs. Do only what's necessary to prevent further damage after a storm, such as covering broken windows with plastic or roofs with tarps to keep rain out.

Don't make or commission permanent repairs until an insurance adjuster reviews the damage.

Wait for the all clear from the Emergency Operations Center before returning back to the city after the storm.
