Dr. Sandra Rideout-Hanzak

Professor & Research Scientist, Texas A&M University - Kingsville

Dr. Rideout-Hanzak is a certified senior wildlife fire ecologist and research scientist at the Caesar Kleberg Wildlife Research Institute, a research facility at Texas A&M University – Kingsville. She studies the effects of prescribed and natural fires on plant, animal, and soil communities. In one of her current research projects, she is looking at butterfly communities after seasonal prescribed burns of coastal prairies. Join us from the comfort of your own home to learn more about this great research project.
